Clear Creek and Gilpin County: Transit Assessment and Planning Study

Project Overview

The Transit Assessment and Planning Study will document the area's transportation gaps and identify specific human services and public transportation needs to improve community access to employment, healthcare, education, services, shopping and recreational opportunities. The study will include a strategic approach to fulfilling those needs and gaps to ensure overall community support of the plan's recommendations and promote implementation of recommendations overtime.

This type of planning is necessary to position the Counties for potential expansion of services through grants from the State and Federal Government.
